NOTRE DAME SEMINARY
& THE PATH TO PRIESTHOOD

In 2023, Notre Dame Seminary celebrates its 100th anniversary! In recognition of the importance of strong spiritual formation of Catholic priests throughout the history of New Orleans, the executive producers of Shepherd in the City: John Paul II's Visit to New Orleans, Catholics in the Crescent City: The First 300 Years, Glory Days: The Catholic League of New Orleans and the Gabriel Award-winning films A Legacy of Love: Henriette Delille and the Sisters of the Holy Family and Ordinary People, Extraordinary Gifts: The Road to Sainthood are pleased to commemorate the centennial of the founding of the Notre Dame Seminary in New Orleans with their next documentary film.

Formed: Notre Dame Seminary and the Path to Priesthood will bring the Graduate School of Theology's 100-year history to life through rare archival photographs and footage. Some of the many bishops and archbishops, thousands of priests, deacons and lay people who attended or have taught at the seminary, including the Most Reverend Gregory M. Aymond, the city's only native New Orleanian NDS alumnus ever to become Archbishop of New Orleans will explain the most important functions and benefits of the seminary, and reflect on how Notre Dame Seminary has changed their lives and formed them in faith.

Navigating growing pains through the Great Depression, World War II, Korea and Vietnam, the Civil Rights movement, and Vatican II, the Seminary has adapted and changed with the times. We'll experience the excitement of one of the Seminary's highest honors and Archbishop Philip M. Hannan's most treasured memories, when Pope John Paul II visited New Orleans and stayed at the Archbishop's Residence at Notre Dame for two days in 1987.

Most importantly, the film will recount the blessings that the majestic Beaux-Arts style Seminary has brought to the city, the Archdiocese and the Church over the past century, and the expansion of its campus and curriculum, which now includes theology degrees for lay people. The documentary will illustrate how, through the intercession of its Patroness, Our Lady, and the assurance of its motto, Deus Providebit (God will provide), Notre Dame Seminary will continue to thrive in difficult times and serve future generations into the next century and beyond.

"Our world and our church have changed over the last century, but in that same 100 years Notre Dame Seminary has fulfilled the dream of Archbishop Shaw providing an extraordinary place for priestly formation. The seminary holds a special place in my heart as it was my humble honor and privilege to serve on the faculty and then as rector for nearly two decades. Now the second largest seminary in the United States serving dioceses across the Gulf South and beyond, Notre Dame Seminary continues its legacy of forming men into priests of Jesus Christ to serve the church into the future."

—Most Reverend Gregory M. Aymond, Archbishop of New Orleans

Formed: Notre Dame Seminary and the Path to Priesthood will premiere on WLAE-TV (New Orleans Public Television) in September, 2023 to coincide with the opening celebrations of the seminary's centennial.
